HINMAN 2014 DRAWS 20,772 ATTENDEES

The 102nd Thomas P. Dr. Brian Carpenter, General Chairman; Dr. Eddie Pafford, Program Chairman; and Dr. Jane Puskas, President and Program Chairman, assembled the best of the best this year. Hinman sold out its exhibit hall, which hosted a Hinman Treasure Quest and daily prize giveaways. The Keynote Session was one of the best attended in recent years and featured Dr. Benjamin Carson, who filled the Sidney Marcus Auditorium.

Steps to Elevating Hygiene Service, Systems and Profits,” which attracted 1,300 people. Of the paid courses, “Hygiene, Health and Happiness” drew the most participants with 891 in attendance and Dr. Gordon Christensen’s “Ninety Highly Useful Tips in Three Hours,” filled the room with 635 attendees.

The Real Benefits of the Hinman Dental Society

Jane Puskas

I am so proud and appreciative of our members for their countless hours of service to make this Hinman Dental Meeting so successful—whether it be for arriving early with a smile on your face to serve as clinic captain or information guru, for hosting our speakers with that Southern hospitality, for representing our society so well amidst the 21,000 attendees, or for just saying yes when we asked for your help. Our members are the secret ingredient that makes the Hinman Dental Society so special.

I was honored and humbled to stand before the huge audience at the Keynote as the first female president in the 102 year history of the Hinman Dental Society. It is fabulous that the Society has formally joined the ranks of great professional organizations that recognize and welcome dedicated women in the highest leadership roles. Dr. Ben Carson was inspirational as he shared a similar message that in our American society, success and advancement in any aspect of life should depend on commitment, a conscientious work ethic and character, regardless of gender or race.

Dr. Thomas P. Hinman established our legacy of attracting the best speakers in the profession to introduce dental advances and innovations to improve patient care. Through the great success of the Hinman Dental Meeting, the Society continues to support dental education. I am proud to report that in the last five years alone, the Hinman trustees have awarded over five million dollars in grants for dental education. In fact, the Society just received the very prestigious William J. Gies Award for Vision, a preeminent recognition of exceptional contributions to and support of dental education. Dr. Hinman would be very proud.

As great as its contributions are to dental education, the Hinman Dental Society provides so much more for its members. My journey through the Society illustrates how special Hinman is for its members. I became a member in 1996. This network helped me become quickly established in the Atlanta dental community. I had the incredible good fortune of meeting a Hinman member, Dr. Harold Lanier, and buying his practice. The Society provided this newcomer to Atlanta an incredible network of colleagues—those to cover my practice and help me treatment plan challenging cases, and even friends to give me advice about schools in Atlanta.

My husband and three children also benefited from getting involved with Hinman and attending the annual meeting. Jillian and Caroline always looked forward to horseback riding. One of my dearest family memories when

Thank you, Hinman, for what you have done for me and for my family. I encourage my younger colleagues, talented men and women of diverse backgrounds to get involved in the Hinman Dental Society. As much as we invest our time and energy in the service of Hinman, Hinman returns to its members, and to our wonderful profession, so much more.

102nd
Hinman-
Best Ever

Brian Carpenter

Words can not describe how pleased I am with the 102nd Thomas P. Hinman Dental Meeting. As General Chairman, it was impressive to watch our society come together like no other meeting in the country and exemplify Dr. Hinman's dream. I thank all the committee chairmen, members and hosts who worked so hard to do what we do best at Hinman! The meeting was a huge success in many ways. While some financial records were set, my goal was always to have a program that was diverse and of the highest caliber, and we achieved that goal.

My Program Chairmen Jane Puskas and Eddie Pafford were remarkable with their guidance in making the scientific program so strong and it was a pleasure working with them

The Hinman Staff continually makes all of us look great and, quite simply, they are the best!

The Keynote and Dentist Reception were superb and there is nothing about this meeting I would have changed.

I sincerely thank the society for allowing me to serve as your General Chairman, but most importantly I thank my wife Pam for her unconditional love and support through this process. I look forward to seeing everyone at the Annual Meeting.

Dear Dr. Carpenter and Dr. Puskas,

The Hinman meeting was a tremendous experience, as always. Congratulations on heading up the team that identified so many great speakers, filled up a fantastic exhibit hall, staged all the entertaining social events, and generally excelled in every way.

It was a special pleasure to attend the meeting this year as president of the Georgia Dental Association because you truly made me feel welcome. I sincerely appreciate your hospitality. Leanne and I could not have asked for a better host than Dr. Richard A. Smith. He and Cindy took excellent care of us and made our time in Atlanta memorable.

I attend the Hinman meeting every year, and most years I also bring my office staff members to take part in the courses and events. I can sincerely say the meeting is always well-organized, well-run, and consistently offers an outstanding benefit to the dentists and dental staff members who also attend every year. I appreciate the good relationship the GDA and Hinman Dental Society have developed and I look forward to continuing to attend meetings and work together to benefit Georgia's dentists.

Sincerely,

Marshall H. Mann, DDS
2013-14 GDA President

Dear Brian,

I want to thank you for inviting me to be a part of the 2014 Hinman Dental Meeting. I enjoyed every minute of the Hinman experience. I cannot imagine the time and effort you put into making this meeting a success, but succeed you did! Congratulations on your achievement and thank you for your service not only to the Hinman, but to the dental profession as well.

I also want to thank you for giving me a chance to re-launch a second speaking career. I will always be grateful for the opportunity you have given me.

Please send a special thank you to Tom Skafidas. He went above and beyond the call of duty as my host. He was always there for me, and I commend him for his service.

No meeting anywhere matches the Hinman experience, and I am so grateful to have been a part of the 2014 Thomas P. Hinman Dental meeting.

Dear Dr. Brian Carpenter & Dr. Jane Puskas,

What an honor and a delight it was to be a small part of your 102nd Thomas P. Hinman Dental Meeting. AIMING for EXCELLENCE was a conference title and goal befitting the spirit of your all the selfless volunteers that made this meeting a reality and of the quality programs you gave to the dental community.

I thoroughly enjoyed my second year as a Special Lecturer. As a speaker, there really is no other experience to match that of being an honored guest and participant at Hinman. Southern hospitality and charm know no limits when it comes to your graciousness. Greeted by our host Moutin awaits until the moment we leave in Atlanta's finest car service everything is most graciously planned and executed.

I so appreciate the confidence of Dr. Dave Lee in recommending my services and the selection of Dr. Heather Bussey as my host. For me, her selection was a match made in heaven. Heather and her husband Jason anticipated and delivered on every front and made me feel very special and spoiled. Each meeting went off flawlessly and your thoughtful scheduling certainly contributed to each program being so well received.

I know this seemingly effortless event was years in the planning and required countless hours from esteemed members. I wanted to tell you that I both noticed and appreciated all of the attention to detail. Thank you for making this girl from the west coast feel right at home in Atlanta. Southern charm and class was ever present throughout my short visit.

Thank you again for allowing me to participate in such a prestigious event.

Sincerely,

Dear Brian:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and your colleagues for inviting Bob, Brad and me to speak at this year's Hinman Dental Meeting. I have been attending the Hinman for 30 years, and can honestly say this was the most outstanding meeting ever!

We enjoyed presenting our programs to over 850 attendees during our 10 sessions. The attendees were all very engaged and asked excellent questions during each of the sessions. We especially thank you for allowing Brad to participate. Having both of us present jointly enriched the presentation and increased the attendee's interaction and involvement.

Dr. Marvin Winter and his wife Holly did an outstanding job as my host during the meeting. They were very attentive and made sure that all of our needs were met, making this a truly enjoyable experience.

Beth and I thoroughly enjoyed spending some time with you and Pam and look forward to seeing the two of you again soon. Congratulations again on a job well done and I look forward to speaking with you again soon. Our invoice for the travel expenses is enclosed. With best wishes, I remain

The Hinman Dental Society was the proud recipient of the Gies Award for Outstanding Vision as a Public or Private Partner at the Awards Ceremony on March 17 in San Antonio, Texas. The Gies Awards, named after dental education pioneer William J. The Gies Awards are presented by the ADEAGies Foundation, the philanthropic arm of ADEA (American Dental Education Association). For more than 50 years, the ADEAGies Foundation has enhanced the oral health of the public through programs that support dental education, research, leadership and recognition.

“Each year, I am increasingly impressed with the innovation and progress exhibited through the achievements of the William J. Gies Awards winners,” says Richard W. ## DENTISTRY ACROSS THE GENERATIONS ACCOUNTS FROM SECOND GENERATION HINMAN MEMBER DENTISTS

PART 2

The Hinman Dental Society membership is unique; there are many backgrounds, locations and histories within the group. This article is part two of a two-part series highlighting dental families spanning multiple generations.

Leslie McGuinn, Father Bob McGuinn

Leslie said that, “growing up around my father as a dentist taught me that helping other people was important.” Her father’s office was less than a mile from their house, so she was always in and out of the office after school. Leslie first became interested in the field during high school when she would help out in the summer.

Leslie grew up attending Hinman meetings with her dad and saw how the profession of dentistry was continually changing and always had new challenges. Hinman allowed her to see how dentists are a close group and become part of your family and close friends. Becoming a dentist has been even more rewarding since it has allowed her to share the same experiences with her Dad.

Jeff Kendrick, Father Ken Kendrick

Jeff had the opportunity to work at his father’s office, at a young age, cleaning rooms. He enjoyed being with his dad and making money and described the office as the “come look over my shoulder practice.” Jeff also enjoyed going to GDA and Hinman meetings for their family vacations.

Jeff went to the University of Alabama for dental school and he and his wife, Sherry moved back to Fayetteville where they grew up. He started his residency in his Dad’s practice and enjoyed having a mentor to bounce ideas off of every day. Since he joined the practice, Ken has been able to cut back and travel. Jeff was very fortunate to have his father in the practice when he had a serious accident (with a chainsaw and an oak tree) 4 years ago. “He was able to keep the practice going at a level that would feed both of us.”

His dad’s enjoyment in his work is what gave Jeff the bug to be a dentist. “He always says dentistry is not really working. If you want to really work, just go out and dig a ditch!”

Chris Brady, Father Gordon Brady

Chris has fond memories of his dad doing model surgery at home at night and weekends, and describes his dad’s work and family life as “being intertwined in such a positive way.” He realizes now that the extra hours he put in at home were so that “he could be around for activities and everyday moments with me and my sisters,” and he noted that Gordon was always able to attend baseball games or recitals. When choosing to be a dentist, Chris was encouraged that his dad was excited about his work each day and realized that most of Chris’s role models and people he looked up to were dentists. This made Chris “excited and comfortable with the decision to begin a career in dentistry, as well.”

The Bradys attended countless Hinman meetings and Chris has friends today that he has known since early childhood, when he would see them at Annual Meetings. Some of his most vivid memories of Hinman “are at Callaway Gardens where my parents were in charge of the children’s activities for many years.” Chris is excited about the opportunity for his daughters to enjoy the positive environment at the Annual Meetings and continuing the Hinman legacy in his family.
